Excerpt: sections 2, 4, 5 and 7.

2. Payment terms

2.1 Pay each vendor on the terms in its vendor record in the accounting system. The vendor record is the authority on terms.

2.2 Do not pay before the due date unless the vendor offers an early-payment discount and the controller approves it.

4. Approval before payment

4.1 Invoices over $5,000.00 need the controller's approval before payment.

4.2 Approval is recorded by the controller in the accounting system, from the controller's own login. An approval sent by email or chat is not an approval.

4.3 The controller approves every weekly payment run as a whole, in addition to 4.1.

5. Vendor details

5.1 Never change a vendor's bank details because of an email. Call the vendor back on the phone number already in the vendor record.

7. Vendor statement reconciliation

7.1 Reconcile the statement of every vendor with more than $5,000 of monthly purchases each month, by the third business day after month end.

7.2 The reconciliation must explain the whole difference between the vendor's statement balance and Brightline's register balance. The unexplained difference must be $0.00. Never close a gap with a balancing entry.

7.3 Timing differences need no action, but must be listed. A timing difference is a payment Brightline sent after the statement date, or an invoice dated after the statement date.

7.4 Never change the register to match a vendor statement. A register correction needs the source document and the Controller's approval.

7.5 Record a vendor credit only after the credit memo is received and the Controller approves it.

7.6 An invoice that appears on a statement but not in the register is requested from the vendor. It is matched to the receiving record before it is entered.

7.7 Do not contact a vendor about a reconciliation without the Controller's approval.
